

Press Release

STid signs a distribution agreement with Kimaldi

Greasque, July 21, 2010

STid is pleased to announce the distribution agreement with Kimaldi to introduce its UHF reader range on the Spanish market.

Kimaldi is a leading distributor in people identification and access control equipments. Both as manufacturer and wholesaler distributor, Kimaldi stands out thanks to its flexibility and adaptation to customers' needs, and also to its important experience, its know-how, its implication and commitment with its distributors' channel.

"Kimaldi is our trusted partner in Spain, this partnership reinforces our presence in the Spanish market (...) Kimaldi will provide local support and high level consultancy to our new and already existing customers" says Charlotte Pluvinage, export manager of STid.

Kimaldi's distribution channels, associated with STid readers and tags, will give the opportunity to the Spanish customer to integrate STid RFID technology in their existing environment, with a minimum impact and without expensive middleware.

The flexibility and adaptability of the STid Products, will allow Kimaldi to offer competitive prices to all their customers, especially in the access control and vehicle identification field.

Information about STid

STid, a manufacturing company started in 1996 with a technical expertise developed over more than 10 years, is specialized in contactless ID (identification) technologies using radio frequencies (RFID). STid develops and manufacture off the shelf or customized equipments and solutions for people identification (access control), vehicle and objects identification (traceability, logistic...)

STid offers a full range of readers and tags operating at the main frequencies (125 kHz, 13.56 MHz and UHF) and compliant with all technologies Mifare®, Mifare Plus, DESFire EV1, ST, INSIDE, EM, Legic...) and international standards (ISO 14443 A-B, ISO 15693, ISO 18000, EPC).

More information about STid, www.stid.com

Information about Kimaldi

Kimaldi is a manufacturing and wholesaler company started in 1998 in Spain, where are the headquarter offices, and currently has 3 more subsidiary offices around the world (México, Portugal and France). Kimaldi is focused in almost all identification systems like RFID (LF, HF, UHF and active RFID), biometrics (fingerprint, fingervein and facial), smart and magnetic stripe cards, card printers, access control and time & attendance. The expertise in identification market, technical background, market orientation and flexibility are the key factors of Kimaldi, who has agreements with several of the most important world wide manufactures in order to distribute their products with the best service.

More information about Kimaldi, www.kimaldi.com

STid - Contact
Vincent DUPART
Marketing manager
Tel : +33 (0)4 42 12 60 60
@ : v.dupart@stid.com